SIA SPECIAL REPORT – WHEN HURRICANES STRIKE Satellites Play a Critical Role in Saving Lives and Providing Critical Services to Businesses,

On Aug 29th, Hurricane Ida (pictured in the image above) made landfall in southeast Louisiana as a category 4

cyclone with sustained winds of 150 mph. The hurricane caused widespread and devastating coastal wind and water damage plus massive power outages throughout much of the State. Earlier this year, SIA released a special report highlighting the critical role satellites can play in saving lives and providing critical services before and after a weather disaster. The report also focuses on SIA member hurricane initiatives during the recent past including last year's record-setting Atlantic hurricane season.
