SIA PRESIDENT TOM STROUP TESTIFIES BEFORE HOUSE AGRICULTURE COMMITTEE REGARDING SATELLITES AND BRIDGING THE DIGITAL DIVIDE IN RURAL AMERICA

On June 21st, the Satellite Industry Association (SIA) testified on the importance of satellite connectivity before the House Committee on Agriculture hearing titled "Closing the Digital Divide in Rural America." SIA President Tom Stroup provided testimony on behalf of the Association. "In addition to satellite supported telehealth, GPS equipped autonomous farm vehicles and remote sensing-enabled precision farming services, recent innovations have made the delivery of high quality, high-speed broadband, and Internet of Things (IoT) connectivity available to rural America everywhere and everyone - helping to close the digital divide across the United States."
